DISAPPOINTED

With Irish Home Rule Bill Introduced by Secretary Birrell.

Measure Confers But Little Self-Government Upon Ireland.

Nationalists to Declare Their Attitude at Convention in Dublin.

JOHN REDMOND DELAYS JUDGMENT

The Government Tuesday presented its long-expected Irish bill to the House of Commons and to the country. This bill is designed to meet the demands for Irish home rule. It was presented by the Chief Secretary for Ireland, Mr. Birrell, to a crowded house. Prior to the appearance of this measure it was popularly termed "devolution bill," but today it is referred to as the "Irish Council bill," or even the "Irish bill." Compared to the home rule bills of 1886 and 1906 the measure confers but little self-government upon Ireland, merely giving to the Council control of the eight departments now managed by Government boards. Twenty-four members of the Council are to be appointed by the Crown, and while the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland is given the right to nominate its members, the Crown retains control of five of the eight departments, including constabulary. The control of this branch always has been a thorn in the flesh of the Irish people. It is natural and quite to be expected that this half-way measure is wholly pleasing to no political party.

The radicals are disappointed that the measure falls short of actual home rule and the Irish members are even more disappointed with it. The Irish leaders, however, are maintaining a diplomatic attitude until they have time to study the provisions of the bill and learn the sentiment of the people. A national convention will be held in Dublin soon to decide upon the policy of the Irish party. The laborites will support the measure because they are all home rulers.

The floor of the house was packed and the galleries held a notable assemblage, including a number of peers, the visiting colonial premier of Australia, and several Bishops, W. Bourke Cockran, of New York, was an interested spectator. Members of the Irish clergy were conspicuous in the galleries. Mr. Birrell rose to an oratorical height when he described the present system of administration. He called Dublin Castle a failure, saying: "There it stands, remote, without a friend, and melancholy, while the current of Irish life sweeps past." No Governor had entered, he continued, "the gloomy portals of Dublin Castle, without the shaking of the heart almost equivalent to abandoning home."

Nobody, said Mr. Birrell, believed that the present system of the administration of Ireland was sound in principle or economical. It has been switched off from the great current of the national life of the people. Under the proposed new scheme the Irish members of Parliament would continue to sit at Westminster in undiminished numbers, but he hoped hereafter to find a more profitable channel for their energy in managing local affairs at home. It was the intention of the bill to establish a representative administrative Council, consisting of eighty-two elected and twenty-four nominated members, the latter to be nominated the first year by the King and thereafter by the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland.

Elected members would be elected on the local Government Board franchise. The Under Secretary to the Lord Lieutenant would be ex-officio member of the Council, which would have complete control of the powers vested in the departments to be handed over to its care. The President of the Council would be appointed by the Council itself, and the Chief Secretary would have the right to attend the meetings. If the existing officers of the departments were elected by the Council they must be given full pensions.

Exercise of the power vested in the departments would be controlled by reason of the Council, and the supremacy of the Imperial Parliament would be safeguarded by the power given to the Lord Lieutenant to reserve his consent to any results of the Council and eight departments, which would be made subject to the new Council. The departments coming under the control of the proposed Irish Council would be the local Government Board, Department of Agriculture, Congested Districts Board, Commissioners of Public Works, National Education, and Intermediate Education, Inspectors of the Reformatory and Industrial Schools and the Registrar-General. The Supreme Court Judicature, Royal Irish Constabulary, Dublin Metropolitan Police, the Land Commission and the Prison Board would remain under the control of the Imperial authorities. Under the bill peers and women could vote, and any subject would be able to hold the office of Lord Lieutenant without preference for any religious belief.

John Redmond, the Irish leader, said that until he and his colleagues had time to consider every feature of the bill and elicit Irish public opinion in regard to it, no one could expect him to give either deliberate or final judgment. Mr. Gladstone proposed to solve the problem by the full and frank concession of self-government and autonomy to the Irish people, but what the present Government offered was a substitute for it. The Irish still demanded home rule, and rested the claim on their historic right and the admitted failure of a century of British government of Ireland. As long as Mr. Redmond thought they were justified in regarding the scheme as consistent with the maintenance of their aspirations, and he proceeded to apply certain tests to the scheme regarding giving general and effective control to Irish public opinion over the matters which the bill dealt with. He said that he did not like the nominated element.

SACRED HEART.

Children Give Rev. Father Walsh a Pleasant Surprise.

One of the most pleasing events in the history of the Sacred Heart parish, and which those who witnessed it will never forget, was the surprise given the Rev. Father Patrick Walsh by the school children Wednesday morning, in commemoration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood. Father Walsh, with that modesty that has always characterized him, had said nothing to anybody about his anniversary, but the little people had found it out and proceeded quietly with their surprise. The secret of which was kept to themselves. With the aid of the Sisters a splendid programme had been arranged, including addresses, recitations and vocal and instrumental numbers. Particularly feeling was the address by Mary Bimet and the recitation, "From My Mother in Ireland in My First Mass," by Mary Holmes. John McGrath and Mary Lawless also recited, and the violin solos by Margaret Dalton and Carmel Mahoney, with Claire Kennedy and Mary Clines as accompanists, were most artistically rendered. Beautiful indeed was the recitation, "Gifts from the Pastor," participated in by Margaret Garin, Mary Keyer, Emma Whirren, Claire Kennedy, Mayme Filben, Margaret Dalton, L. Bell and L. Linnema. Incidental to the foregoing were the songs, "Gentle Zephyrs," by the boys, and "Jubilee Bells," by the girls, the whole concluding with "Holy God."

Father Walsh was so surprised and overcome that it was with difficulty he told the children that he intended the day to pass unnoticed, but they had stolen a march on him. He thanked them for their manifestation of love and imparted to all his blessing.

ST. LOUIS BERTRAND'S.

Inspiring Sight at Confirmation of Class That Numbered 234.

Wednesday, May 8, was a festive day at St. Louis Bertrand's church. At the regular 7:30 o'clock mass, which was celebrated by Father McClellan, O. P., a class of more than 200 received holy communion. Immediately after the mass, the Right Rev. Bishop Morris, of Little Rock, Ark., assisted by the Fathers of St. Louis Bertrand's, administered the sacrament of confirmation to a class numbering 234, twenty-two of whom were adults and nine converts to our holy faith. It was an inspiring sight to witness the piety and fervor of the candidates as they approached, two by two, and knelt at the feet of the Right Rev. Bishop to receive through the holy unction the grace to make them strong and perfect Christians and soldiers of Jesus Christ. His Lordship, in a brief address to the candidates, impressed upon them the duty of battling courageously against the world, the flesh and the devil; of fighting like brave soldiers, ready to suffer wounds, and if need be, to sacrifice their lives rather than prove untrue.

On the following day, the feast of the Ascension of our Divine Lord, four of the Dominican Fathers celebrated the silver jubilee of their ordination. Solemn mass was celebrated at 9 o'clock, with Father Colburn as celebrant; Father Most, Lecturer; George A. Walters, Advocate; Adolph Day, Warden; C. J. McBaron, Inside Guard; J. A. Gardner, Outside Guard; J. O. Casey, A. E. Burke and John Zapp, Trustees; Christopher Reising and Charles Pfeiffer, delegates to the Grand Council to be held at Evansville May 14; the Rev. G. C. Borries, chaplain. This council, the first of the order in New Albany, starts with sixty charter members. The next meeting will be held Thursday night, May 16.

KNIGHTS ELECT OFFICERS.

New Albany Council, Knights of Columbus, at a meeting held in St. Joseph's Hall, on East Eighth street, selected officers for the ensuing year as follows: Christopher Reising, Grand Knight; Charles J. Fackler, Deputy Grand Knight; Charles E. Cheap, Chancellor; Wm. Reever, Financial Secretary; E. J. Tighe, Treasurer; Bernard Coll, Lecturer; George A. Walters, Advocate; Adolph Day, Warden; C. J. McBaron, Inside Guard; J. A. Gardner, Outside Guard; J. O. Casey, A. E. Burke and John Zapp, Trustees; Christopher Reising and Charles Pfeiffer, delegates to the Grand Council to be held at Evansville May 14; the Rev. G. C. Borries, chaplain. This council, the first of the order in New Albany, starts with sixty charter members. The next meeting will be held Thursday night, May 16.

CONVENT SIZED.

Fifty mounted gendarmes surrounded the convent of the Ursulines at Nantes at daylight last Saturday, and when the Sisters refused to admit them, the doors were battered in. The Sisters were found assembled at prayers in the chapel, but after the Mother Superior had read a protest against the action taken by the authorities the offending priest removed the holy sacrament and the Sisters withdrew. In the meantime an excited crowd gathered outside the convent, shouting maledictions on the soldiers. A number of persons were arrested, including a Lieutenant of the Twenty-fifth dragoons.

CANDIDATE ANNOUNCED.

Mackin Council Elects Joe Hancock Corresponding Secretary.

President Ben Sand kept things going Tuesday night at the meeting of Mackin Council, which was largely attended and very interesting. Two applications for membership were received. Regret was felt over the report that Messrs. Andrew Kast, William Klein, George Bartsch, Herman Holkamp, George Kruse and A. Baron were still sick.

A communication was read from Lambert Young Council at Frankfort, asking Mackin to support its candidate, Owen Conry, for Grand Secretary at the Owensboro convention. The election for Corresponding Secretary brought out a big vote and was declared in favor of Joe Hancock, who received a good majority. In acknowledging the honor he asserted that if backed by Mackin Council he could become Mayor of New Albany and Jeffersonville.

Louis Kieffer, reporting for the Entertainment Committee, announced every arrangement made for the comic opera to be given at the Mary Anderson Theater, and upon motion $300 was appropriated for the choral club.

Messrs. Sam Robertson, Charles Raley, James Shelley, Clarence Zook and William Kerber were named as a reception committee for the joint debate tomorrow afternoon, which will be attended by the lady friends and members of the councils of the Falls Cities.

MANY SIGN.

First Advance For Cigarmakers in Over Twenty-Five Years.

The Cigarmakers' Union this week presented the manufacturers with the new bill of prices, and are greatly pleased over the fact that all but six shops have signed. This is the only demand the members of the union have made since 1881, and it is thought that as soon as the stocks now on hand are depleted the manufacturers will call back their men and grant the increase, which is only $1 per thousand. The Louisville union is one of the strongest in the international body, with a membership of over 500. For some time these men have devoted themselves to building up a big trade for their employers, many of whom have become rich in the business, and they therefore think that the time has arrived when they should receive a slight increase in wages. Under the administration of the union conditions have greatly improved and Louisville cigars have come to be recognized as the best made.

SOCIETY CIRCUS.

Will Be Given at Coliseum Rink Next Thursday Evening.

Much interest is being manifested in the "society circus" to be given in the Coliseum Rink next Thursday evening, as this is the first time any entertainment of this kind has ever been given in this city, and the local society people and patrons of the Coliseum are looking forward with much interest to the production. Many unique novelties and grotesque mimes will be introduced on skates, while the best talent in town has been secured for clowns and acrobatic comedians.

The first rehearsal will be given this morning under the personal supervision and direction of Messrs. Max Brun and Harry Grove, who guarantee to those who will attend a successful and pleasing entertainment. Admission to the rink will be twenty-five cents and skating fifteen cents extra.

FATHER MAJOR GOING SOUTH.

Rev. Thomas Major, pastor of the Church of the Good Shepherd, at Frankfort, is contemplating a trip down South for the benefit of his health. Father Major is one of the best known priests in Kentucky. During the war between the States he was a member of Morgan's Cavalry. After the war he became a Catholic and later studied for the priesthood, abandoning the medical profession to enter the ministry. His many friends hope that the intended vacation will benefit Father Major and that he will find complete restoration to health during his Southern sojourn.

GREAT RACES.

The spring meeting of the Louisville Jockey Club is attracting immense crowds and the racing is of the highest order. Over 20,000 people saw the Derby, and the race was equally as large will see the Clark handicap run this afternoon, when the stars of the turf will compete for the rich prize. Wednesday the feature will be the Debutante stakes for two-year-old fillies, and on Saturday will follow the Bluegrass stakes. Every other day there are hurdle races with the best jumpers in the country in the fields. Commendation is heard on all sides for the judges and track management, which augurs for the best meeting ever held at Churchill Downs.

STRENUOUS

Was the Life of Dennis Kearney, 'Frisco Saud Lots King.

His Death Recalls Stirring Chapter of Chinese Exclusion Movement.

Labor Leader Who Made Politicians and Financiers Tremble.

INVENTED SEVERAL UNIQUE PHRASES

There came to San Francisco a little more than forty years ago a sailor boy, tanned and toughened by years spent on the seas, unprepossessing in appearance, known and without education or money. Five years later this same sailor boy had raised himself, by sheer force of character, to the leadership of an army of workmen, he had gained a national reputation, and the political and financial world were in a tremor. He had not only made himself a powerful factor in the life of the nation, but he had caused a revolution in the working classes of San Francisco, but only a few friends accompanied the body to the grave, and his passing away did not even cause a ripple of excitement.

When Kearney was nine years old he left home and took the sea. He sailed in many years and finally landed in America. He sailed from several Atlantic ports, among them Boston, and in 1868 came to San Francisco on the clipper Shooting Star. He eventually became mate of this vessel at the age of nineteen. He followed the sea for some time thereafter and finally, in 1872, went into the drayage business in San Francisco. At that time the anti-Chinese movement had commenced and Kearney attended every meeting held to discuss the exclusion of the Chinese. He entered with vigor and spirit into the controversy and his fiery utterances attracted the attention of merchants who employed him. He was a sort of boss drayman for the Custom House. Gradually the merchants stopped giving him work.

Kearney continued at the meetings and was up and down constantly, trying to make himself heard. His speeches were somewhat uncouth, as he had not been educated, and he could not express himself fluently. He did have, though, a wonderful command of strong phrases that caught the workmen. Chester H. Hull, a young newspaper man, who was reporting the meetings, became interested in this rugged character of the sea and took him in hand. He realized that Kearney's fiery address and commanding manner contained great possibilities. Hull wrote several speeches for Kearney and as a laborator advised them with great effect. Then followed the famous "Saud Lots" meetings, which were held in vacant ground on which the City Hall later was built. Kearney had a remarkable memory. He committed the longest speeches in a few hours, and he was the prime word from the text. In a short time Kearney outstripped his instructor and became a powerful and convincing speaker on his own account. He did not have to rely on his reporter (Hull) for material. It was that he began to invent his unique phrases describing corrupt politicians and financiers. His chief theme was the Chinese question. With the curt phrase, "The Chinese must go," as his motto, he hammered at this subject ten years, and he was the prime promoter of the Geary bill which exists to-day in the enacted laws.

On October 29, 1877, Kearney held a large meeting on top of California street hill, where Leimel Stanford, Charles Crocker and Mark Hopkins had elegant homes. In front of the unfinished house of Mr. Hopkins a large bonfire was built, and within the hearing of those millionsaires Kearney addressed his followers, declaring the capitalists and the politicians to be the enemies of the people. He would march through the city with his followers and compel the politicians and financiers to give up their ill-gotten gains.

There are many in the East who remember Kearney as well as he is remembered in California. When he was at the zenith of his power he essayed to convert all the country to his belief, which was that labor should rule capital and that employers should be subservient to the workman. During the Chinese agitation he was the most powerful champion of the exclusion movement. It was he who invented the phrase, "The Chinese must go!" and he coined words to describe the capitalists and employers who hired Chinese labor. The waning of his power came when he attempted to convert the East. He spoke in New York, at Cooper Institute, in 1887, and his denunciation of respectable capitalists was not received with favor, and the better class of laboring men refused to tolerate him.

In 1888 he addressed the House Committee on Foreign Affairs in advocacy of additional legislation to restrict Chinese immigration, exhibiting a map showing how low the Chinese were herded together in San Francisco and saying that 75,000 Chinese men then occupied the plowier district of the city. On one occasion Kearney referred to Congressman Hitt, and said if Hitt did not withdraw his opposition he would stump his district to defeat him and would have his followers pelt him. Of recent years Kearney had been little heard of. Other men of keener minds and better judgment took up his work and completed it. He had five children and became moderately wealthy. Two of his daughters went on the stage.

KNIGHTS OF ST. JOHN.

Large and Admiring Audience Witnesses the Annual Inspection.

An audience of several hundred delighted people witnessed the annual inspection and drill of the Knights of St. John at Phoenix Hill Park on Monday evening. Col. Theo. Poppe and Major Bloemer were in command, and the inspection was held under the direction of Col. Henry Pelletier, the only surviving charter member of the first commandery organized here. Headed by the Knights' band the six commanderies put up a drill that was unexcelled, and their military appearance was declared the best ever seen here. The equipment was perfect. During the evening Capt. Breckman and St. Martin's Commandery gave a splendid exhibition drill, but the big hit was made by Capt. Breen and the men of St. Michael's, who were received with rounds of applause as they went through movement after movement in perfect order. After the drills a couple of hours were spent in dancing and other amusements.

Ireland's International Exhibition Opened With Great Ecstacy.

The Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, the Earl of Aberdeen, opened the Irish International Exhibition at Herbert Park, Ballsbridge, last Saturday. The Knights of St. Patrick, wearing their insignia; the castle officials, all in full uniform; representatives of many public bodies, and large crowds of spectators were present. The address of welcome was read by the Marquis of Ormond. In replying the Earl of Aberdeen read a message which King Edward sent from Paris as follows: "I trust that the exhibition which you are to open today will prove a success and a demonstration of the international progress made by Ireland." After a tour of the exhibition the picturesque state procession was reformed and returned to the castle. The exhibition is far from being completed.

KATE WALSH DEAD.

Miss Kate Walsh, of 1038 Fifth street, one of the best known members of the Cathedral congregation, died at her home Wednesday afternoon after a long illness. Miss Walsh was a retired dressmaker, and many years ago she was one of the foremost dressmakers of the city. During the last years, however, her life has been devoted to church and charitable work. A sister, Miss Elizabeth Walsh, formerly a teacher in the public schools, and her mother, Mrs. Mary Walsh. Her funeral took place yesterday morning with a solemn mass of requiem and the remains were interred in St. Louis cemetery.

FIRST MASS SUNG.

The Rev. Father Tobias Crowe celebrated his first solemn high mass in the Cathedral of the Assumption Thursday morning. The young clergyman is a native of New York, but has studied for this diocese in Presbyter Park Seminary here in company with the Rev. James Norman, of Rhode Island, and the Rev. Michael Maloney, of Cincinnati. Father Crowe will go for awhile to Grayson Spagh, and the Rev. Father Noram will assist temporarily at St. Cecilia's parish, taking the place of Rev. Francis Brady, who is now ill at St. Joseph's Infirmary.

Bishop Morris Raises Three Young Men to the Priesthood.

Right Rev. Bishop John Morris, of Little Rock, Ark., who is one of the most distinguished Catholic prelates in America, officiated this week at the Cathedral of the Assumption in the ordination of three young Louisville priests, Father Crowe, Father Maloney and Father Norman, who have just finished their course of study for the priesthood at Prestosa Park Seminary. Bishop Morris conferred the minor degrees on the young priests Saturday morning, and also officiated when the degree of sub-deacon was conferred with impressive ceremonies. Monday morning he conferred the order of deacon, which raised the three young men to the holy priesthood.

Bishop Morris was the guest of Bishop McCloskey during his visit to Louisville. He is a graduate of St. Mary's College, Marion county, and was ordained into the priesthood by Bishop McCloskey.

NIGHT FOR THE LADIES.

Division 3 Arranging a Nice Programme For Their Entertainment.

Division 3, A. O. H., has arranged a unique and original programme for the entertainment of the Ladies' Auxiliary and their friends at the meeting to be held Thursday night, May 16. Alderman George J. Butler, Patrick T. Sullivan and Joe J. Coleman have the affair in charge and they invite all Irishmen and their ladies to be with them that evening. There was an interesting session last week, when the applications of Thomas Farrell and James Loftus were received and Harry Murphy was obligated as a member. Treasurer James Leihan, of Division 4, was a visitor and when called upon by President Coleman responded with a timely talk about the coming summer celebration. The reports showed that the treasury was being constantly added to and the division was in splendid financial condition.

Miss Mary Sheridan will speak for the auxiliary and Messrs. Butler and Sullivan for the order. Tom Dolan will for this once present something serious and Thomas Fitzgerald and Sylvester Doyle will respond for Division 4. A musical programme will also be presented. Miss Julia Kelly singing a solo. Every division will be included in the exercises, which will be followed by a dainty luncheon for the ladies and refreshments and cigars.

OPERA COMES NEXT.

Mackin Choral Club Arranging For Biggest Event in Years.

The Choral Club of Mackin Council is arranging for one of the biggest amateur events in years in the way of a musical novelty, entitled "The Dreamers." This production is written, composed and staged by Aulyn E. Kanston, and those who have seen the rehearsals claim it is the best work of the young composer and equal to a great many of the professional performances seen in this city. The principals are the best talent that this locality affords, while the chorus is composed of seventy-five people and made up of some of the best singers and lookers in Kentucky. Prof. Faltus, who has charge of the music, promises quite a surprise for all who witness the finished production. The Choral Club has secured our new and beautiful Mary Anderson Theater for two performances and the dates set are the nights of May 20 and 21. Tickets will be put on sale at the box office of the Grand Opera House on Thursday. The following is the cast for the principal characters: Dorothy Sage, Mrs. Edna W. Irwin, J. A. Y. Elshier, Tessie Nordeau, Miss Esther B. Whedon, Lotta Noyes, Miss Hae Hoffman, Etta Sage, Mr. Pat King, Messenger Boy.

Miss Leota Whitton, Blanche Mr. Saw Sage, Tom Shireliff, Austin Nordeau, Benoni Irwin, The Earl of Portsmouth, Louis Klefer, Pierpont Roosevelt de Poo.

WILL HEAR PRIEST.

The Rev. John W. Cavanaugh, C. S. C., President of Notre Dame University, Indiana, has been invited to give two addresses on conditions in France at Purdue University, in that State. It is a pleasant sign of the times that a prominent university of notably strong Protestant evangelical traditions should ask a Catholic priest to state the French question for its professors.

VISITING WESTERN PROVINCE.

General Praxedes Carty, Mother General of the Loreto Sisters, was in St. Louis this week visiting her academics in the Missouri province. From there she expects to go to Colorado and New Mexico, returning to Kentucky in time for the Loreto commencement in June.

PROGRAMME

For Sixteenth Biennial Convention of Catholic Knights of America.

Addresses by Archbishop Gleason and Moeller and Mayor Dempsey.

Kentucky Will Be Represented by Delegates Gleason and Reichert.

CINCINNATI MAKES BIG PREPARATION

The sixteenth biennial convention of the Catholic Knights of America will be held in Cincinnati next week, and it promises to be the largest and most important Supreme Council meeting held since its foundation thirty-two years ago. Unlike many other fraternal insurance societies, the Catholic Knights have passed through the crisis and stand today the strongest organization of its kind in the country. This gratifying condition is in large measure due to the zeal and earnestness displayed by President Gaudin and the Supreme officers, who gave the order the benefit of their long experience. The past year has been a most successful one, the membership having increased in nearly every State and Territory in the Union. All arrangements have been completed and Cincinnati is ready to receive its guests. Tonight Dr. J. A. Averick and the Covington Knights will hold a reception for the visitors, the only time that could be given Kentucky for the purpose. The programme has been mapped out so that the regular business of the convention will not be interfered with to any extent. The committee, by experience gathered at preceding Supreme Councils, has wisely tempered pleasure with business. There are two features that are probably quite new at C. K. of A. conventions, the one being the big intention of over 100 new members, among them a number of ladies, on Tuesday night, and the other the visit to the St. Aloysius Orphanage in Bond Hill.

Headquarters have been established at the Hotel Invila, and for Sunday the following will be the order: Annual convention at 7 o'clock in St. Mary church, and vespers attended by Hamilton county members, in St. Paul church; after vespers general meeting, with addresses by Supreme officers and delegates.

Monday night there will be a reception at the Hotel Invila, and Tuesday morning Pontifical mass in the Cathedral by Archbishop Henry Moeller; address by Most Rev. J. J. Gleason, D. D., Archbishop of St. Louis, and Spiritual Director of the order. Addresses of welcome by Ilon, Edward J. Dempsey, Mayor of Cincinnati, John J. Bass, Mayor of St. Louis, and Henry Moeller, of Cincinnati, will also address the convention. At 8 o'clock there will take place the joint initiation of 100 new members, under new ritual, in Greenwood Hall.

Wednesday morning there will be a high mass of requiem for deceased members in St. Louis church. The afternoon will be devoted to a sight-seeing trolley ride, winding up with a visit to St. Aloysius Orphanage. The social feature for Thursday will be the banquet, while the entire day Friday will be devoted to business. Saturday will be spent at the Zoological Gardens and miscellaneous entertainment. Two and three business sessions will be held each day.

Kentucky will be ably represented by Messrs. Reichert and Gleason, the former being a member of the Committee on Official Reports. While many amendments will be offered to the existing laws none of a radical nature will be adopted.

TWENTY YEARS BISHOP.

Last week the Right Rev. Patrick A. Ludden completed his twentieth year as Bishop of Syracuse. Under his administration that diocese increased its number of churches from forty-five to sixty-eight, and is now looked upon as the fairest way the equal of any in the Empire State. The most democratic of men, Bishop Ludden is withal a ripe scholar and a close observer of movements and men. When one comes to know him well he is amazed at his intimate knowledge of events far and near, and at his faculty of instantaneous and accurate analysis. It is remarkable, and in this, as in other respects, no prelate in the country is his superior.

PLEASED LARGE AUDIENCE.

The dramatic club of St. Catherine's Council, Y. M. C. A. at New Haven, gave a fine rendition of the four-act rural comedy, "Dora's Fortune," before a large and pleased audience in Rapier's Hall last night. Prominent in the cast were Messrs. Jaaper Johnson, John J. Bass, St. Louis, Hagan, Joe G. Barry, Will Johnson, Leo Nevitt, Misses Alice Rapier, Felicia Hagan, Edith Colsher and Georgia Ferrell, with Willie Wayne Johnson between the acts. The club may give the same performance in some of the nearby towns.

NOTRE DAME LEADS.

The interstate collegiate oratorical contest, held last week at Parkville, Mo., in which eleven States were represented, was won by E. F. O'Flynn, of Notre Dame University, representing Indiana. Notre Dame has the honor of leading in all the recent collegiate contests in which her representatives have participated.

UNSATISFACTORY.

Secretary Birrell introduced his Irish home rule bill in the British Parliament on Tuesday and the best that can be said for it is that it is unsatisfactory and disappointing and not what the people of Ireland had reason to hope for. One good feature, however, is that it has religious bias in the selection of the Lord Lieutenant, who wields great power. The opinion generally prevailing is expressed by Hon. Michael J. Ryan, National President of the United Irish League of America, who says:

"The terms of the Irish bill are disappointing and seem to be a 'far remove' from home rule. To intelligently discuss the measure, however, would require a full reading of it and an intimate knowledge of the complex system of government which afflicts Ireland. Her civil affairs are now managed by sixty-seven irresponsible and independent bureaus, many of them directed by sub-clerks from London department offices, thus making her, as Lord Dufferin said, the highest taxed and the worst-governed land in the world. The concentration of many of these 'bureaus,' as seemingly provided by the bill, would undoubtedly be advantageous, but the whole measure will be passed on at the national convention of the Irish people, which has been summoned to meet in Dublin on May 21, and they are on the ground and know best their needs. Ireland will then accept or reject it—but, if accepted, it can only be as a step forward. It is unfortunate that England could not measure up at least to the heights reached by Gladstone. It would be vastly better for England if Ireland accepted toward her the position of Canada, Australia, the Cape Colony or the Transvaal, as the denial of the justice of self-government will only rekindle the fires of Irish hatred throughout the world from every point of view—a result to be deplored."

NOT A FAIR DEAL.

The refusal of Governor Beckham to reappoint Magistrate Patrick T. Sullivan to his office, after being re-elected and petitioned by nearly every prominent Democrat and court official in this district, looks like a direct slap to not only the party here but to the many friends of Squire Sullivan, and especially the voters in his district, as any one at all familiar with the situation here knows that the Governor's appointee or any one else in that district has one chance in a hundred to defeat Squire Sullivan in the election which will be held next November.

Another point we make is this: By what process of reasoning does Gov. Beckham figure that the public here is willing to leave its choice for public officials in the hands of Dr. Carter Helm Jones, Rev. J. Lyons, Rev. Dr. Waltz and Rev. M. P. Hunt (of A. P. A. fame), four Protestant ministers of the gospel? We seriously object to such selections being left to a committee like the above. If the Governor cares no more for Democratic opinion here than that, we suggest that our representatives and Senators support ex-Gov. Bradley, the Republican choice for Senator, who at least is liberal and fair-minded in his views.

LOOKS FOR PANIC.

If an industrial crisis is on the slate it will, in all probability, not come before 1913. That would seem an appropriate year. In England there is a panic about every ten years. In the United States every twenty years. The foregoing prediction comes from Joseph French Johnson, dean of the school of commerce of the New York University, who reasons thus: "During the last ten years prices have risen 42 per cent, while the amount of money has increased 70 per cent. During that same time the national banks have increased their loans and discounts 115 per cent. Meantime the reserves have been reduced from 39 per cent to 13 per cent. Wages have not gone up as rapidly as prices have risen, and therefore an increase in wages should be made. If people are to purchase goods at rising prices they must have higher wages. I do not say that from any humanitarian motive, but from the knowledge of the cold fact that if prosperity is to increase we must give some of the money earned to the common people." If an industrial crisis does occur it will, he thinks, be like that of 1857, from the effects of which the country recovered almost completely within a year.

HELPED HUGHES.

Thanks to a corrupt combination of legislative enemies representing both Republican and Democratic corporation creatures, Gov. Hughes has been put in a position where he can no longer be neglected as a Presidential possibility, writes a well known and posted correspondent. The people in the Legislature, who have been busy "boasting" the Governor, so as to prevent his removal of Insurance Commissioner Kelsey, seem to have been wholly unaware of the inevitable political effect of their action. Hughes has been put in the position of fighting for the people. He will appeal to those same people for support and there can be no doubt he will get it.

With none of the tricks of the politician, with so little of practical statecraft, he would possibly be a well intentioned nonentity if left alone, but the Republican and Democratic Senatorial leaders have already "made" Hughes. He has been beaten in the State Senate by a disreputable bi-partisan organization, but the people are already beginning to be heard from, and Hughes is assuming the stature of a national political quantity who must surely be reckoned with when the next Presidential ticket is framed up, if not for first place, at least for Vice President.

Lebanon has begun to feel the effects of local option. Men who for years have been prominent in the business and social life of the town are leaving. Before the law went into effect there was an unprecedented sale of liquor in quarts, gallons and even barrels that went into homes where none had ever before been seen.

During the past few weeks the press has been giving prize fighter Sullivan much space. The erstwhile great John has sunk very low, too low for the notice given him.

RECENT DEATHS.

Margaret Mary Regan, the venerable mother of J. M. Regan, 1915 Brook street, passed to her eternal reward Tuesday at the age of eighty years. Her funeral took place yesterday morning from St. Louis Bertrand's church.

The funeral of Mrs. Rose Burns took place Monday morning from St. Patrick's church. Deceased was the widow of James Burns and had been unable to leave her home for the past two years, being a sufferer from bronchitis. She was sixty-five years old and resided at 1618 Bank street. Three daughters and a son are left to mourn.

The death of Henry Zeller, beloved husband of Katherine Zeller, caused sincere sorrow among his many friends and relatives. He had been ill for some time at his home, 1410 Shelby street, and had been seen yesterday for his recovery. The funeral took place yesterday morning from St. Martin's church and was largely attended.

Tuesday afternoon the final summons came to Mrs. Albion Tobin, widow of the late Michael Tobin and a respected member of the Dominican parish. Deceased resided at 1041 Fifth street with her son Edward and two daughters, Misses Isabella and Mary Tobin. The funeral services were held Thursday afternoon from St. Louis Bertrand's.

Patrick O'Hare, aged eighty years, a native of Cong, County Mayo, Ireland, but for over half a century an industrious and respected resident of this city, died Tuesday morning from infirmities due to his advanced years. Until recently he was employed by the L. & N. and resided at 1120 Zane street. Surviving him are two sons, Peter and Thomas O'Hare, and one daughter, Miss Annie O'Hare. The funeral services were held yesterday morning from St. Louis Bertrand's church, of which the deceased was a pioneer member.

MANY CANDIDATES.

Division 4, A. O. U. L., met Wednesday evening with President Joseph P. McGinn in the chair and Pat Kenealy acting as Vice President in the absence of S. J. McElliott. Several applications were acted upon, which now makes quite a good many candidates waiting initiation in this division. Joseph L. Lenihan read an interesting paper on "Charity Begins at Home," which was well received. W. J. Connelly, Robert Mitchell, Joseph Lenihan and Thomas Lynch were appointed as delegates to the Catholic Federation.

REST FOR TEN DAYS.

The Mackin Council Social Club, through its Chairman, John Kinney, turned over a nice check at the meeting Tuesday night, the social season having closed. This series of dances was a decided success from every standpoint and the attendance was always large.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

Late News That Will Interest Members Here and Elsewhere.

Two halls were required for the banquet and ball Monday night of the council at Union, N. Y.

The anniversary of the battle of Lexington was observed by the council in that city with a most enjoyable ladies' night.

The Knights of Auburn, N. Y., held a minstrel entertainment Thursday night, the talent being supplied from the membership.

Pere Marquette Council, of Milwaukee, is the largest in Wisconsin. Its growth has been remarkable. The council was organized but three years ago.

A striking feature of the decorations at the ball given in the Town Hall by the council at Andover, Mass., was the arrangement of 1,000 electric lights of various colors.

A banquet was given by the members of the fourth degree at the Hotel Miffler in Milwaukee, in honor of August Reihan, master of the degree for the State of Wisconsin.

Knights of New York City raised $25,000 for the erection of a Catholic chapel on Blackwell's Island, where the inmates of the city prison and penitentiary may attend divine services on Sundays and other days.

The council at Green Bay, Wis., has presented to the Kellogg public library, through Rev. L. A. Ricklin, a valuable and handsome gift in a set of encyclopaedia. It is the new Catholic work just being published, of which only the first volume is out.

CHURCHES THROUGED.

In all the Catholic churches Assen-day services were held Thursday, and the masses were attended more largely than ever before.

JAMES ROGERS DEAD.

James Rogers, a pioneer Irishman and one of the best known Irishmen in Louisville, died suddenly Thursday just as this paper was going to press. He served several terms in the General Council, and had an excellent record in both public and private life.

KNIGHTS AND LADIES.

The various branches of the Catholic Knights and Ladies of America are arranging a great reception for the Supreme President of the order, Dennis Kelley, of Memphis, who will soon visit here and address a mass meeting to be held under the auspices of the newly formed committee representing the Louisville branches.

REOBLIGATED.

The Holy Trinity Total Abstinence Society, the oldest and most prosperous Catholic temperance organization in Indiana, turned out in large numbers last Sunday afternoon. They marched in a body from their hall to the church, where they were reobligated by the Rev. Fathers Curran and Griffin. Father Leo, of St. Anthony's, preached a great sermon.

CONDITION UNCHANGED.

The Rev. Francis Brady, assistant at St. Cecilia's church, who has been at St. Mary and Elizabeth Hospital for the past month, is still in a serious condition. Father Brady is suffering from a complication of ailments and it may be some time before he will be well again, but his friends will rejoice to know that no doubt is felt for his recovery.

BREAKS THE RECORD.

Tomorrow morning at the high mass at 9 o'clock at St. Philip Neri church a class of twenty-one will receive their first holy communion from the hands of the pastor, Rev. Father Oscar Ackerman, D. C. L. This class breaks all records in this growing parish and affords priest and people cause for great rejoicing. Three priests will assist the celebrant of the mass.

SCORED ANOTHER SUCCESS.

Tuesday evening a large and appreciative audience assembled at St. Mary's Hall and witnessed a splendid performance by the Chesterfield minstrels, who so readily complied with the wishes of the Catholic Woman's Club in giving the entertainment to aid them in raising funds for the erection of a new club house. The young men scored another fine success and all deserve equal praise.

LEFT RELATIVES HERE.

Letters just received from Ireland bring the sad intelligence of the death of Daniel J. Liston, aged forty-eight years, at his residence, Derronee, Athes, County Limerick. Deceased was the eldest son of the late John Liston and a cousin of Messrs. D. J. Coleman and Patrick J. Liston, of Louisville. His death is deeply regretted by his sorrowing wife and children and a wide circle of relatives and friends, among them many in this country and Australia.

HINTS ON STYLE.

In separate coats this season one of the novelties is the fitted cutaway. Both plain and fancy styles are everywhere looked upon with favor for skirts.

In printed fabrics there is a predominance of gray in all the showings thus far.

Belts are not advisable for a stout figure, or even for a rather straight one if the waist is large.

White galatea is one of the favorite materials for boys' suits for the up-to-date young man, and has the double merit of being smart and durable.

White continues the favorite in spite of the fact that color is being much used, and every woman likes to include white gowns in her warm weather outfit.

Japanese cotton crepe makes a very pretty and suitable material for kimono jackets, and comes in such variety of colors that it is a pronounced favorite.

Not for years has there been such a silk season ahead. Silks of every kind and color, of every conceivable weave and design, will be extensively worn for all occasions.

The child's frock made with slightly open throat and with short sleeves is the ideal one for really warm weather. It means perfect comfort as well as height of style.

Soft satin and silk linings are taking the place of taffeta. For elaborate dresses silk voile promises to be this season's leading fabric. It is both practical and beautiful.

The popularity of the separate wardrobe is to be marked this summer. Increased showings are being made in silk models and much use is being made of pongee, particularly in the rough weaves and heavier weights.

PARTICULAR COUNCIL.

The Particular Council of the St. Vincent de Paul Society will meet in regular monthly session Monday night at St. Francis Hall, when President Campbell and Secretary Doyle hope to see each conference fully represented. It has been hinted they will have some interesting information to impart.

IMPRESSIVE CONFIRMATION.

A large class of children, who for some time past have been receiving careful instruction from Rev. Father Connelly, was confirmed Wednesday evening at St. Bridget's church by the Right Rev. Bishop Morris, of Little Rock. The ceremonies were very impressive and closed with benediction.

NEAR UNTO DEATH.

Press dispatches from Rome say the Vatican has learned from Madrid that Cardinal Rinaldini, Papal Nuncio there, who was made a member of the Sacred College at the consistory held last month, is near unto death.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General
News Notes.Division 2 had a good meeting on Friday night of last week.Divisions 2 and 3 of St. Paul are having large accessions to their ranks.There was a decided improvement in the attendance at the meeting of Division 1 this week.This time next year all will be busy in this city preparing for the Kentucky State convention.The Ladies' Auxiliary meets next Wednesday night. Some very interesting proceedings are anticipated.Prof. Rohan, of Marquette College, has consented to address the Ladies' Auxiliary in Milwaukee on May 27.Minnesota Hibernians expect to have 4,000 men in line at the dedication of the St. Paul Cathedral on June 2.That will be a pleasing entertainment for the ladies at the meeting of Division 3 next Thursday night.
Try not to miss it.The County Board will not meet until the return of Preside Murphy.
Then action will be taken looking to the annual celebration.There was a large attendance and a very enjoyable evening was spent when Division 1 of Barre, Vt., gave a reception in the Knights of Columbus Hall in honor of the newly formed ladies' auxiliary.Division 1 of Yonkers, N. Y., held a special meeting last week to work
the degrees upon eight new members.
Major Gilar, of the Irish Volunteers and a State officer of the order, delivered an address and a couple of hours were spent socially.Division 2 of Lowell, Mass., has been honored by having three of its members, Hon. John Donovan, Hon.
Jeremiah Crowley and Hon. James Casey, elected Mayor of that city. The last named has the proud distinction of being the youngest Mayor in the United States during his term of office.State and county officers have plans made for the largest parade ever held by a single organization in New Haven. One of the county officers says that of the 9,500 members in Connecticut at least 7,000 will participate. When the State convention was held in Hartford last year fully 75,000 people were attracted to the city to witness the parade.

AMUSEMENTS.

Miss Maude Adams comes next to Maeaulay's for an engagement of three nights and Saturday matinee, beginning Thursday, presenting "Peter Pan," in which she has achieved her greatest success. This is assuredly one of the best attractions seen here during the entire season.

LOOKED AT AS MENACE.

Books that mock at religion are classified as a menace to Christianity
by Monsignor Bruchesi, Archbishop of Montreal, who has formally protested to the city authorities against their admission to the public library.

FATHER CAMPBELL COMING.

The Very Rev. Father Campbell,
S. J., of Glasgow, is shortly leaving Scotland on a mission to the Catholic Gaelic speaking Gaels of Canada, of which it is estimated there are above 200,000 in that country. It is thought he will also visit some of the larger cities in the United States before returning to Scotland.

METHODIST EXECUTORS.

Six executors of the Methodist fifth and two shrewd lawyers of Iowa City have just finished administering an estate of $8,000 that was settled to a score of Catholic priests. This eccentric will was made by William Gillagher, of Franklin county, Iowa, who died a bachelor and provided in his will that his estate should go to twenty Catholic priests in various parts of the country and six Methodists were named as executors of the will. These executors called in two attorneys to help them settle the estate and $4,900, the net amount of the estate, has been given to six of the legatees. The estate amounted to $7,831, and after paying debts, etc., $4,900 was left. The executors' fees amounted to $216 and the lawyers' fees to $630.

MOST UNLUCKY MAN.

J. M. Scanlan, a well known writer of San Francisco, poses as the most unlucky man on the Pacific coast.
He has established thirteen dailies and weeklies in California that have failed. He says that every check he receives either is unsigned or undated. The one unlucky event of his life occurred while he was a private in the Confederate army. While kneeling behind a low earthwork a cannon ball struck the top of the embankment, covering him with dirt and debris. "If I had been an upright young man I would have been killed," he reported, saluting his superior officer. Friday he regards with much suspicion.

laughter can not be overestimated.
It shakes up the diaphragm, sets the

ISLAND CITIES.

Amsterdam and Ghent are both
built on small islands, Amsterdam
coming the nearest to Venice in the number of islands and bridges. Venice is built on 118 small islands, connected by 378 bridges; Amsterdam
on nearly 100 islands, connected by almost 300 bridges. Ghent stands
on twenty-six islands, joined by 270
bridges.

stock for non-payment of rent. Some cattle were removed to Dromshaire.On Friday night a horse and seven cattle, the property of a farmer named Hickey, residing near Brosn, were burned alive. It is not known how the fire originated. District Inspector Woods and Sergeant Lyons visited the scene immediately after.
The sight was gruesome one to look upon.A severe storm of thunder and lightning was experienced in the island of Arranmore, on the Donegal coast. The storm caused a considerable amount of damage and terrified the peasantry. Two boat-builders at work in a wooden hut were struck down and rendered unconscious, some cattle were killed, and a large boat was split in two from stem to stern.Great sorrow was caused by the death of Rev. P. A. MacDonnell, parish priest of Killybeg, near Killybeg, County Mayo. Father MacDonnell was about thirty-five years in the ministry, a portion of which was spent in Moygownagh and Ballycastle.
He was a much esteemed priest,
who always worked most zealously
in the interests of his parishioners, and as mediator between landlord and tenant he succeeded in settling many land cases.A farmer named Charles Daly, residing near Gortalea, seven miles from Tralee, was found drowned in a gripe by the roadside two hundred yards from his own house in seven inches of water, but the drop was a fairly deep one from the road. The deceased, who was about seventy-four years of age, was for some years suffering from heart trouble. He was coming home from Castleisland in a dray, probably to get out of the cart, was seized with a sudden attack and must have toppled into the ditch.As a party of intending emigrants from Gloucestery were proceeding to the train the horse they were driving took fright, having been frightened by a pig, and dashed furiously towards Duinnaghy. When a short distance from that place the car was upset with a most disastrous result.
One man named Rourke had a leg badly broken, a young emigrant her arm sprained, while a man named James Cronin was rendered unconscious. He was taken into the house of D. J. Burke, Castle street, when Dr. O'Callaghan and Rev. Father Coughlan were sent for. The last rites of the church were administered. The poor man lies in a bad way and is not expected to recover.A very tragic occurrence took place in Cahirciveen resulting in the melancholy death of two respectable men named Thomas O'Connor, a farmer, residing on the townland of Deells, about three miles from Cahirciveen, and Jeremiah Houllihan, a young man from Gortnagree, five miles from Cahirciveen. Both men were leaving the town for home and were in company of a brother of Houllihan. The night was dark, and evidently they were proceeding towards the railway bridge to cross over the Cahirciveen river, on route to O'Connor's house. They having lost their way, came on the brink of a large cavity several feet deep, out of which stones were quarried some years ago and which was filled with water to a depth of several feet.
They were precipitated into the water. Houllihan's brother, who very provisionally escaped from falling into the hole, raised an alarm, and soon large numbers of the inhabitants of the town were on the scene.
The coast-guard procured grapplers, by which means after some time the two men were brought up on the brink, but life was extinct.

ISLAND CITIES.

Amsterdam and Ghent are both
built on small islands, Amsterdam
coming the nearest to Venice in the number of islands and bridges. Ven-
ice is built on 118 small islands, connected by 378 bridges; Amsterdam
on nearly 100 islands, connected by almost 300 bridges. Ghent stands
on twenty-six islands, joined by 270
bridges.

THIS IS ALL YOU WILL HAVE TO DO—READ CAREFULLY.

First—Any Piano, whether it be a Grand, Square or Upright is eligible. Second—But it must be in actual use. Third—No Piano that has been stored away can be entered. Fourth—As Piano dealers we are in possession of data that will enable us to some extent to judge by the number and name of each piano sent in about how old it is, but in order that no mistake will be made, we will send one of our experienced representatives to examine each and every piano that in our estimation appears to be the oldest. Fifth—If the names of two or more Pianos are sent in and each appears to be very old we will be the sole judges as to who shall be awarded the New Haines Bros. Piano. "QUICK MEAL" GAS RANGES

For many years the "Quick Meal" has been universally acknowledged as the best gas range in the market. They cook quickly, bake excellently and on account of their patent air burners consume less gas than any other. They are more easily cleaned and are made to last. The new improvement this year will keep it in the front rank. Having made our 1907 contract before the advance in prices of all iron goods we are able to sell at old prices.

WILL CONSIDER BILL.

Nationalists to Hold a Great Convention in Dublin
May 21-22.

The Nationalists have called a great convention to be held in Dublin May 21 and 22 to consider the Government bill. All the Irish city corporations and the borough and city rural councils have been invited to send delegates irrespective of politics. The branches of the United Irish League in Ireland and England also will be represented, and all the clergymen of Ireland, irrespective of denomination, will be ex-officio delegates.

John E. Redmond, as leader of the Nationalists, will set forth Mr. Birrell's proposed bill, and ask the convention to pass its opinion thereupon for the guidance of the Irish members of Parliament. Thomas W. Russell, liberal member for the southern division of Tyrone, expressed the conviction that there had been a change of opinion, and that the mass of the population of Ulster would be found supporting the measure, which he said had excited the opposition of the Ulster Unionists because they feared it would put an end to their reign of patronage. R. Barry, Solicitor General for Ireland, repudiated the suggestion that there had been a private treaty with the Nationalists in respect to this bill.

MAGIC VENEER GLOSS.

In another column we call attention to magic veneer gloss, manufactured in this city at 518 Third street, which has sprung into great popularity and is being used in homes and offices throughout the city with the most successful results. This gloss puts new life in old furniture and fixtures and makes them look like new and last many years longer. It cleans, polishes and veneers metals, hardwoods, furniture, office fixtures, musical instruments, automobiles, carriages, bicycles, etc. In fact it will put a brilliant finish on any article of wood or metal that has a varnished, japanned or enameled surface, renewing and increasing its original brilliancy and newness with but little labor. Our readers will find it all that is represented.

ANNUAL COMMUNION.

Branch 25, C. K. of A., has set Pentecost Sunday, May 19, for the annual communion of the members. They will attend St. John's church, Clay and Walnut, and receive in a body. This is a constitutional requirement and the officers will see that it is carried out to the letter. Monday night an interesting meeting was held, when another certificate was issued. This branch is making satisfactory progress under the administration of Messrs. Mehan, Mann and Hill.

WILL CAST LARGE VOTE.

An interesting popularity contest is on between three ladies and three gentlemen, all associated with the popular Pastime Drill Company, and will continue until May 30, when the vote will be counted and the result announced at the company reception and dance to be given at Nadoff's Hall, Eighteenth and Kentucky streets, invitations for which are now being issued. The Pastimes have a reputation as entertainers, and will leave nothing undone to make this their banner social event.

THE WHITE CITY.

When the weather permitted this week the White City was visited by large crowds who came away delighted with the many attractions and music provided for their entertainment. Everything is now in perfect working order and those who go there next week will be agreeably surprised. Weber's Prize Band makes its appearance tomorrow and will play at the White City every afternoon and evening during the week. Weber's Band is a collection of soloists who merely play but who interpret music, and is one that may invite comparison with any that has ever been heard in America.

GREAT CLASS.

Knights of Columbus Will Initiate Eighty-Five Men Tomorrow.

Louisville Council, Knights of Columbus, recognized as one of the strongest and most representative bodies in that great Catholic order, will hold a record-breaking initiation in this city tomorrow afternoon, when the three degrees will be conferred on a class of eighty-five candidates, the majority of whom are residents of Louisville. The work of the first two degrees will be put on by members of the local council. Following the initiatory ceremonies there will be a banquet at Liederkrantz Hall, where covers will be laid for 500. Thomas Walsh, the attorney, will be the toastmaster, and addresses will be delivered by Very Rev. Father Michael Jaglovicz, President of St. Mary's College in Marion county; Samuel Bowling, a prominent merchant of New Haven, and Joseph Conkling, the well known attorney of this city. In addition to those mentioned, many other prominent residents of Louisville will have present as a surprise a speaker of national reputation. Large delegations are expected to attend from all parts of Kentucky, and also from Indiana, Ohio and Tennessee.

FONTAINE FERRY OPENING.

Despite inclement weather Fontaine Ferry Park secured a most favorable start during the initial week of its 1907 season. The combined announcement of a free gate and many notable attractions brought out a tremendous crowd in the afternoon, and it is almost safe to say that of the thousands of people present no one left the park dissatisfied, unless it was that the weather prevented them from remaining longer at the "park beautiful." Hopkins' Pavilion also opened with one of the best bills ever put forth in a summer vaudeville theater, and for the coming week another one equally as attractive is promised. The Trio DeLaur, who with Cook's Military Band of thirty excellent musicians have brought much joy to those persons who love to sit in the shade and listen to good music, have been re-engaged for another week. The rink has attracted hundreds of skaters and is more popular than ever. With the good order maintained this is an ideal place to spend an afternoon or evening.

JOINT DEBATE.

A large gathering of young men and ladies is looked for tomorrow afternoon at Mackin Council club house, when the debate arranged for by the Joint Committee of the three local Y. M. I. Councils will take place. Trinity, Satoli and Mackin will each be represented by two of their ablest and most eloquent orators, and an intellectual treat is in store for all who attend. Members are requested to bring their lady friends. The subject of the debate will be the three branches of government.

ELEVENTH ANNUAL.

The Delmont Club will give its eleventh annual series of excursions on the elegant steamer Island Queen on the nights of Thursday, May 16 and 23, and it is expected that the attendance will eclipse all former years. An executive committee consisting of Messrs. Herman Roehr, Joe Pirman, Leo Kaufman, Henry Lang, Louis Borntraeger, Joseph Blas and Al. S. Rau will make all arrangements for the comfort and pleasure of those attending.

REPRESENTS LOUISVILLE.

Thomas J. Welsh, one of the best known railroad men in Kentucky, is in Atlanta attending the convention of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, now in session there with about 800 delegates present. This is the third time Delegate Welsh has been thus honored, and it is his intention if possible to secure the next convention for Louisville. He is a member of Newman Lodge and for fifteen years has held the office of Financial Secretary.

PHOENIX HILL OPENED.
